DAVISON REPORT STARTS LIVELY DISCUSSION

2 NEW INDUSTRIES BEGIN OPERATION, PROSPECT BRIGHT

Industrial Life Here Is Given Impetus By Pair of Plants

WELL KNOWN MEN ARE IN CHARGE

Furniture Factory And Piston Plant Get Underway

To new industries this week begin operation, adding new payrols and new impetus to the Twin City industrial life. The Y. and S. Piston Ring company, on Moulton street, and the Dixie Manufacturing company on Holly street, both started their machinery during the week and by the first of next will be in full operation, it was indicated today.

Officials of the Dixie Manufacturing company announced today that it already has made a few pieces of porch furniture, which will be its principal product, but will not begin full operation before next week.

This company recently was incorporated with the following officers: A. D. Jervis, president; R. C. Perkins, vice-president; W. A. Schaffer, secretary and treasurer. Directors are: C. H. Eyster, H. B. Beard, J. L. Proctor, John W. Knight and Messrs. Jervis, Schaffer and Perkins.

The company will manufacture a high grade porch furniture at present and later may add other lines. Prospects for the success of the plant are most promising and a cordial welcome is being extended by the citizens of Albany and Decatur to the new industry.

The plant will prove a financial blessing to many farmers of this whole section, using, as it will, quantities of tie-oak and second growth hickory saplings. The company, in an advertisement in today's Daily, sent out a call for the latter.

Messrs. Schaffer and Perkins come here with a reputation of many years successful work in the furniture manufacturing field behind them and already have made many business and personal friends. Local people interested in the company are well known and much success for the plant is being predicted.

The Y. and S. Piston Ring company, composed of E. G. Young and D. L. Simrell, is made up of two well known local business men, and it was expected that in a short time it would prove one of the most important industries of the community. The company plans to ship its product all over the nation, and will manufacture what is said to be an entirely new departure in the matter of piston rings for motor cars. The new ring, the invention of Mr. Young, is declared to end many motor troubles.

Some delay has been experienced in getting the plant underway, due to delay in the manufacture in Cincinnati of specially designed machinery. This equipment, however, now has been installed and rings were being made today. By the first of next week, it was believed that operation would be on a regular schedule.

NATIONAL SYSTEM OF ROADS APPROVED

(Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Secretary Jardine today announced his approval of a national system of roads selected by the joint boards of interstate highway officials to be known as United States highways.

The road system included 75,884 miles of highway each route of which had been designated by number. Secretary approval of the joint boards plan has been forwarded to the American Association of highway officials meeting in Detroit this week.

The secretary's approval of the plan brings to a close the work of the 24 state highway officials.

TIME NEARLY UP FOR MOVIE APPLICATION

Shooting Local Picture Will Begin Now Very Shortly

Applications for the leading role in "A Day in Hollywood" are still coming in from Albany-Decatur girls while the director and his cameraman are busily engaged in transforming the stage of the Princess theater into a movie studio, where special electric cables and lights are being installed. The films that are to be made will be developed, edited, titled and printed right here in the city. A special portable laboratory equipment is being placed in position for this purpose. More than five thousand feet of film will have to be developed and when finally assembled and boiled down to the finished production the length will be about two thousand feet or two reels. The finishing of the picture is a big job in itself and takes about three days time but this assures the movie fans of good photography and prompt delivery of the films to the operator at the theater.

In giving some of his views on what is essential to make a success in moving pictures, the director says "at all times you must be fit, and by that I mean physically, mentally and morally. You must be willing to take any part that the director gives you, no matter how humble, and carry it through in a way that will look to your audiences, that you were brought up and raised in the atmosphere that the part carries. You must make a study of the different facial expressions, be able to show sadness one minute, joy the next, expectation one minute, extreme disappointment the next. Be able to cry, laugh, sing, dance, run, jump, anything the director tells you and be able to do it on a moment's notice. Your mind must be fresh, and your eyes clear, and above all things keep clear of dissipation of any kind that will clog the brain and make the mind sluggish, as these are the things that have ruined the career of more than one promising movie actor."

The interior or studio scenes that are to be made on the stage of the Princess theater will be made just as they are in any of the large studios. The powerful Kleig lights will be used. These lights develop two hundred and fifty thousand candle power. This large volume of lights is necessary in making motion pictures where there is no natural light available. The normal exposure of a motion picture film is about a fiftieth of a second, and there are sixteen individual exposures or pictures, is one

ALLEGED KLAN ROW REACHES PEAK WITH ARREST THREE MEN

Curry Identifies Trio Who He Claims Were In Flogging

WARRANTS FOR ARREST ISSUED

Answers Warning By Announcing "It Is Their Move"

(Associated Press)

CLANTON, Nov. 19.—Walter P. Osley, Dick Martin and J. H. Denham all of Calera were at liberty at noon today, following their arrest this morning by Sheriff T. F. Littlejohn on warrants charging assault and battery. They were allowed bonds of $500 each. None of them made any statement at the time of their arrest.

CLANTON, Ala., Nov. 19.—Another chapter was written in the Curry flogging case today by Walter K. McAdory, chief of the state law enforcement force, when warrants were issued against three men. They are Walter B. Osley, postmaster of Calera; Dick Martin, mechanic and J. H. Denham, meat market proprietor. These three men are those whom former State Senator Thomas A. Curry claims to have recognized and wounded when taken from his front porch by a band of men and flogged about two months ago.

Mr. Osley last night denied participating in the flogging. When questioned by newspapermen last night he said, "I don't know anything about it, I have nothing to say."

The alleged flogging is reported to have taken place on the night of September 18. Mr. Curry said that he was taken from his front porch by a gang of men, overpowered and flogged.

Some days ago Mr. Curry wrote an open letter to the citizens of the state charging that the men who took him from his home were members of the Ku Klux Klan of Chilton and Shelby counties. Curry was ordered to silence after the flogging but declared in open letter that it was "their move next."

TWO MEN KILLED; THREE ENTOMBED

Mine Disaster Takes Toll Of Two In One Family

(Associated Press)

MADISONVILLE, Ky., Nov. 19.—Two men were killed and three were entombed in a shaft mine of the Finley Mining company by an explosion early today. The explosion was said by mine officials to have been caused by a "windy shot." Two men escaped.

The dead are: Rolla Vaughn, 32, and his brother Harold, 16, of this city.

Rescue squads went to work in an attempt to rescue the three men entombed. They are: Tony Cortina, 35, of Kansas; and two negroes, Coay Vick, 28, and Allen Day, 20, of Madisonville.

The mine is located three miles northeast of here. The two men who escaped are brothers of the two killed.

Only seven men were said by officials to have been in the mine at the time of the explosion.

Meeting Called By Presbyterians

The elders of the Westminster Presbyterian church, at a business meeting Wednesday night, called a congregational meeting for November 29, at which time it is expected the membership of the church will take action, looking to the call of a pastor to succeed Rev. L. F. Goodwin, resigned.

'Y' CAMPAIGN FOR MEMBERS STARTS ON NOVEMBER 30

Membership Drive Will Be Concluded On December 5

CHAIRMEN TODAY ARE ANNOUNCED

Current Year One Of Most Successful In 'Y' History

The annual membership campaign of the Louisville and Nashville railroad Y. M. C. A. here will begin on November 30 and be concluded on December 5, it was announced today by C. J. Randolph, secretary of the institution.

Mr. Randolph today announced that the Decatur chairman will be Clyde Hendrix, the Albany chairman F. A. Bloodworth, and the shops chairman C. W. Matthews. These chairmen will hold a conference within a day or two to select the workers in the various divisions and Mr. Randolph stated he expected to be able to make announcement of the personnel of the committees by the end of the week.

Mr. Mathews and his workers will gather at the Y. M. C. A. on November 25 to make their plans for handling the campaign in the shops. The Albany and Decatur chairmen will meet with their workers on November 28, next Friday evening. Further announcement of plans for these meetings will be made, Mr. Randolph stated.

The current year has been one of the most successful in the history of the Y. M. C. A. here. The scope of work during the year has reached the largest number of people and a feature of the program has been the work among the boys and younger men of the community.

According to plans mapped out by the national organization and already adopted by the local institution, the boys' work will continue to be a feature of the Y. M. C. A. endeavor.

Colonel Coolidge Still Improving

(Associated Press)

PLYMOUTH, Vt., Nov. 19.—Some improvement in the condition of Colonel John C. Coolidge, father of the president, was noted today by his physician Dr. Albert Kram, after a visit to his patient's bedside lasting more than an hour and a half. Dr. Kram found the heart attack suffered during the night was less keen than those on previous days and expressed the hope the complete rest he had ordered would result in a change for the better.

The patient's condition, however, remains serious.

HARRISON W. NOEL, subnormal youth aged twenty, ran away from an insane asylum killed a taxicab driver and a little girl. The young man's lawyer told the jury that he was insane, "afflicted by the hand of God."

The jury decides that he was sufficiently sane to be killed by the electric chair. That will happen unless some higher authority changes the arrangement.

BIOLOGISTS will tell you that providence does not deserve the horrible accusation, "afflicted by the hand of God," and common sense tells you that a just omnipotent, merciful being ruling the universe would not voluntarily "afflict" a boy of twenty with insanity, causing him to murder a man and little child that had done no wrong.

BANDITS' ACTION IN 'SPURNING' GOLD IS PUZZLING OFFICERS

Purse Containing $750 Overlooked While Pennies Are Taken

REWARD SAID TO BE OFFERED

Officers Still Believe Job Was Work Of Professionals

While officers and detectives searched today for possible clues which might turn up a strange automobile in which the Scottsboro bank bandits are believed to have travelled to and from the scene of their robbery, speculation was rife today as to the possible reason why the bandits spurned a purse of gold and took instead, a bag of pennies.

Bandits who fail to make the utmost of their opportunities furnish a type heretofore unknown in crime annals, detectives were credited with declaring and bandits who practice thrift with reverse English brought the officers up against a blank wall.

A check of the bank's loss showed that the bandits obtained $15,121, all of which was covered by insurance. The queerest twist was that the loss was divided in currency, quarters, nickles, dimes, pennies and dollars. Half dollars and gold pieces were left.

A purse containing $750 in gold was left, while another bag, weighing more than 25 pounds and containing pennies, was taken along by the yeggs. The insurance company is issuing the blanket policy on the bank's deposits was reported to have offered a reward of 20 per cent of the loss for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the bandits.

Officials here persisted in their belief that the job was the work of professionals, despite the fact that the gang refused the gold. The officials pointed out the vault in which the money was kept was a difficult one to open and the job required professional crooks, it was believed.

SHENANDOAH COURT PREPARES DECISION

Probe of Charges Made By Mrs. Lansdowne Is Completed

(Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—The Shenandoah court of inquiry today concluded its investigation of charges of Mrs. Margaret Lansdowne and will announce its opinion regarding them tomorrow.

It heard from Captain Paul Foley accused by the widow of the Shenandoah's captain, of trying to sway her testimony, a complete disavowal of any intention except that of being helpful to Mrs. Lansdowne.

Then it listened to a statement by Lieutenant Commander C. E. Rosendahl, senior surviving officer of the wrecked dirigible, announcing "as a slander of the dead" any insinuation that Commander Lansdowne took the Shenandoah on her fatal western flight when he believed her in jeopardy from the weather.

BAPTISTS PLAN TO EXTEND HELP FOR STUDENT PASTORS

Ministerial Students In Howard and Newton To Receive Aid

CONVENTION ACTS QUICKLY TODAY

Committee Named To Work Out Plan For The Church

(Associated Press)

SELMA, Ala., Nov. 19.—The report of the special committee on ministerial education, headed by C. C. Davison, of Decatur, chairman, was the first item on the morning program of the Baptist state convention and its reading precipitated a lively discussion, participated in by a dozen or more representative members.

The convention finally adopted a motion by J. R. Hobbs, taking the subject out of the hands of the committee and referring it to a special committee of five, which was summoned into immediate session to thrash out the vexed problem. The committee was instructed to bring in its report before adjournment tonight at nine o'clock.

The exigencies that confront preacher students at Howard and Newton colleges, who are unable to pay their way, and are many times forced to pack their grip and turn their heads homeward because of their reduced circumstances, stirred the sympathies of the convention and there was a sweeping demand that the convention quit its shilly-shallying and find a solution of the situation.

A proposal, which was embodied in the report, that the matter be placed in the hands of the ministerial board and the executive committee of the church, was ignored and a body was named to work out a practical plan that would bring immediate relief in the matter of educating young preachers.

WARNING GIVEN BY HEALTH WORKERS

People Urged To Take Prevention Against Smallpox

Warning to the public to take preventive action against smallpox was issued today by Dr. H. C. McRee, Morgan County health officer.

Dr. McRee announced he was in receipt of a communication from the state board of health, in which the board pointed out that during the early days of 1925 there were many cases of smallpox reported from various sections of the state.

The department urged the local unit to begin now an intensive drive to persuade people to be vaccinated and prevent the recurrence of even a slight epidemic of the disease. Already a number of cases of chickenpox have been reported in this and other counties and it will be recalled that last year the smallpox cases were interspersed with many cases of chicken pox.

Citation On Phone Petition Is Set

Representatives of the Alabama public service commission and the Southern Bell Telephone company are scheduled to meet in conference in Athens on November 23 to take up the petition of the Athens commercial club for installation of new telephone equipment in Athens.

Reports have reached Athens that the telephone company will contend the commission has no jurisdiction over the matter of equipment, being concerned only with rates and service. It was reported also that the telephone company planned to take the case to the supreme court of the United States, if necessary.

12 Years Ago TODAY

From The Daily of
November 19, 1913

A meeting of citizens was held in the Morgan County National Bank last night to boost the bridge plans. The following committee was named to ascertain whether or not it would be necessary for a special law to be passed by congress permitting the bridge: Judge William E. Skeggs, E. H. Allison and F. A. Bloodworth.

An Austinville club was organized last night for Captain Hobson.

The Mother's club met with Mrs. R. L. Maury. Fred S. Cook, of Cook Brothers, who has been very ill, is convalescing.

Mrs. Henry Binford will entertain the Auction Bridge club Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Twelve years ago we were planning a bridge. Now we are building one. That is progress.

Many things, pleasant and otherwise, have occurred in the office of The Daily, but never until Tuesday was the office the scene of the filming of part of a moving picture.

"The City of Anniston announces the first skyscraper to be built in that beautiful city—Huntsville is building at a great rate on her seven story structure—it's about time we step into the race, don't you think?"—Albany-Decatur Daily. Glad to have you do it because the Twin-Cities are in line for their share of the wonderful development throughout the Tennessee Valley.—Huntsville Daily Times.

Alabamians should make up their minds now to lend every support to the "Advertise Alabama" campaign. When we get the resources of the state properly before the people of the east, investors are certain to recognize the advantages of Alabama. There is no need to wait. We may as well rush things up a bit and open the flood gates of prosperity now, as to wait and let them open of their own accord after we are gone.

ANNISTON PLANS TO INCREASE SPEED LIMIT WITHIN CITY

Anniston councilmen are considering changes in the traffic code of that municipality, principal changes including the proposal to increase the speed limit in the business districts from 12 miles an hour to 16 miles an hour and in the residential districts from 16 miles an hour to 25 miles an hour.

The Anniston Star decides that the changes are worthwhile, pointing out that a large percentage of the cars on Noble street now travel at a rate of from 16 to 20 miles an hour, and practically the same is said of the speed limit observance in the residential streets. On the same theory, the Star fails to note, the increased speed limits also will increase the actual speed, for if automobile owners pay so little attention to the present limits, no evidence is given that they will observe the faster limit.

Undoubtedly automobiles can be operated with comparative safety at a greater speed limit than 16 miles an hour, yet The Daily is not convinced that the solution to traffic problems lies in increased speed.

The Star declares that "the auto has outgrown the old traffic code." That is true, but the automobile has not outgrown the perpetual problem of how to increase speed and safety at the same time, and of the two The Daily, for one, prefers safety to speed.

Council and other governing bodies which, from time to time, attempt to bring an end to traffic congestion by speeding up the traffic, may be right, but The Daily cannot believe that they are. We can judge only by results, and, certainly, the results fail to justify speed in motor car travel. Press accounts of numerous accidents tell their own story. Accidents are multiplying, and largely because of the speed and carelessness of automobile drivers.

RADIO REGULATION STILL LARGELY AN UNSOLVED PUBLIC PROBLEM

Radio fans, now quite a large percentage of the public, which gradually is growing larger, had hopes that the recent radio conference would result in some relief being arranged for the present congestion in broadcasting. With the conference a thing of the past, however, it seems that radio regulation still is very much of an unsolved public problem.

Secretary Herbert Hoover, in his address before the conference, left little doubt that there exists absolute necessity for federal regulation of the channels of the ether, at least to the extent of limiting the number of broadcasting stations. The division of opinion apparently is in the matter of where the government responsibility ends and the responsibility of private radio companies begins.

The reports from the conference indicate that there are 578 stations now using the 89 wave lengths available and 125 applicants awaiting assignment of wave lengths and permission to begin broadcasting. That surely presents a problem.

The Philadelphia Evening Bulletin says:

But while it is easy to see that the federal government, having authority over interstate commerce, which includes interstate communication, is the proper agency for regulation, and to understand that there must be some restriction, it is not easy to see how the government is to stop regulating once it has determined that certain existing broadcasting stations are entitled to the air, and none others need apply.

Mr. Hoover recognizes two categories of radio broadcasting problems—those which the industry should solve for itself and those for which it must seek government co-operation. He also recognizes the undesirability of a radio completely controlled by the government, but he has no formula by which the separation of the two categories of problems can be maintained and the ultimate recourse to government broadcasting be prevented. That depends largely on the good judgment and far-sightedness of the radio interests themselves. Radio broadcasting cannot be expected to continue forever as a form of free entertainment or news service. Sooner or later it must seek and find its compensations. Its value in each instance will depend on ability to catch and hold the public ear. This is the true test of the fitness of all broadcasting, the evidence of public exigency, so to speak.

Every operator of a radio receiving set is acquainted with the congestion existing now. Stations literally "fight" each other on numerous evenings for a place in the ether. Many fans were treated the other evening to the unusual defiance of a radio announcer declaring "our wave length is ours." We've paid for it and we intend to keep it." Just what the row was all about, the receivers, of course, did not know, but evidently someone has been trampling on the rights of this particular station and he was informing the world of his complaints.

Another evening another announcer was complaining because some of the Chicago stations were "drowning" out his station. These incidents do not mean much in themselves, except as they reflect the congestion now existing. Radio fans are the chief sufferers, but not the only sufferers. The broadcasters, naturally gauge their success largely by the number of listeners they have. If one station clashes with another, it follows that the utility of both are impaired, inasmuch as few are sufficiently patient to work diligently to clear a station, when others are easily tuned and coming in clearly.

It behooves the broadcasters, as well as the receivers, to protect the infant industry, the growth of which is rivalled only by the expansion of the movies.

C. PERRY SNELL MAKES NOTABLE GIFT TO ST. PETERSBURG LEGIONNAIRES

With peculiar gratification many Twin City residents read of the donation by C. Perry Snell, of St. Petersburg, Fla., of a $500,000 gift to the American Legion of that city on Armistice Day. Mr. Snell, a former Columbia, Tenn., man and an uncle of Henry R. Davis, of this city, is known by many Albany-Decatur people.

It is gratifying to his friends here to learn of the contribution because of many reasons. He could not have chosen a more deserving beneficiary than the ex-service men's organization of his adopted city. Legionnaires here and elsewhere are pleased at the good fortune of their Florida comrades.

The gift is gratifying to Mr. Snell's friends here because it shows that he has had his share of the general development of Alabama's sister state and his friends here feel that his vision is deserving of the reward.

Greater than all, however, the gift shows the great heart of the donor. Mr. Snell removed to St. Petersburg many years ago and invested his means in that city. As the years passed and the Florida boom began, money has poured into his lap. His millions, however, did not alter the kindly spirit of the man.

Modestly, now that his vision has made him rich, he thanks his "luck," says nothing of the judgment and pluck which brought about his success, and announces his desire to do something for the community which has been so good to him.

His letter to the American Legion shows clearly the kindness of the donor. He wrote:

"It has been my earnest desire for several years to remember in some fitting way the American Legion. I feel, as no doubt, many others do, a grateful obligation to the boys who 'went over there' and fought our fight, and to the memory of those who gave 'their all.' I am prompted to help you make a substantial memorial for them. Please offer for me to Legion Post No. 14, St. Petersburg, a deed to ten acres of waterfront which I give free and unencumbered with the understanding that the Legion is to improve the land with buildings for general recreational purposes; also 20 acres of waterfront land to develop and sell; the proceeds to be used for improvement purposes.

"I also tender you for No. 14 Legion Post, 100 acres in trust of flat submerged land in Smack's Bayou to be used for park and recreational purposes in perpetuity. This property is susceptible to the highest development. It may be used for making island parks, at the same time forming a system of attractive lagoons. In the center of this group of islands you could set aside an attractive park and playgrounds for the public. In the middle of the other islands, you can build a golf course, the revenue from which for the three winter months would bring a good income.

"There could also be established on the islands, drives, bridge paths and other similar features.

"To help carry out this development I will set aside a sufficient number of adjacent acres which I will put in the hands of trustees and have them put on a subdivision, look after development, sell lots, and from the sales pay all expenses incident to developing, selling and improvements, and turn over to the trustees for a Legion improvement fund, balance of cash from the initial cash payment of sales as well as first deferred payment, up to $250,000.

"I trust that the boys you represent will accept this gift in the spirit it is given and will join with me and the trustees who will be appointed to represent them in making the property the most important and attractive Legion home in America and another show place for our beautiful city and a recreational place for them and their guests.

"In addition to the personal pride and pleasure the Legion may obtain from this park, I trust that a good income may be derived from the resources that they build up to assist them in their charitable work in lending a helping hand to their less fortunate brothers and sisters. I congratulate the Legion upon the work they have been doing along these lines, and I feel that, in making this offer, I am placing this gift in most deserving hands. I beg to remain, with cordial good fellowship, C. Perry Snell."

The Daily congratulates the St. Petersburg post of the American Legion, but it congratulates also Mr. Snell because of his great heart.

THE LAW WORKS in different ways, even when you try to make it work all one way. While a moron escaped from the lunatic asylum is sentenced to death, Platt May, a Ute Indian, is acquitted of murder.

The Indian's wife died when the baby was seventeen days old, and the baby had pneumonia. The Indian tied the bodies of wife and baby together and buried them in the same grave, the baby alive.

Platt May was acquitted because a medicine man, 'Moron Joe,' told him to do it, and he obeyed through fear. There was reason for fear. 'Moron Joe' while in jail, beat to death a fellow prisoner who spoke lightly of him.

THE REVEREND H. H. A. PHILLIP, 20 years a Presbyterian minister at Tuma Tuma, in East Africa, says "in the jungle human babies learn to swing from tree to tree almost before they can crawl. I have seen convincing proof of the evolution theory many times among the wild tribes in East Africa."

YOU NEED NOT go to East Africa to see babies able to climb a tree. Every baby, for a considerable time after birth, will easily support its weight clinging to your finger or to a small piece of wood.

Every mother knows how a small baby grasps the mother's hair and holds on. Evolutionists tell you that goes back to a time when the little monkey clung to the fur on its mother's chest, while the mother hopped from tree to tree.

THAT'S WHAT evolutionists say. Let us, however, not presume to form opinions, but let missionaries and scientist deal with it.

ETHEL BUNNELL, a young girl in the University of Illinois, beat fifty eight men in a cattle judging competition and that isn't surprising.

Women had to be good judges of animals to exercise discretion in picking out their husbands. Nature has given them power to see clearly and from sound judgment at a glance.

Many a husband who thinks he did the picking was in reality the one picked by a natural born judge of live stock.

WE OUGHT to get on our knees and thank heaven for that wonderful, greatest of all shock absorbers, our atmosphere. Scientists are surprised by a shower of meteors, unusual at this time of the year.

They are supposed to be connected with the "Leonide" showers that bombard the earth once in 33 years. If it were not for our atmosphere's friction, which melts the meteor's, great blocks of stone would bombard our earth and soon nobody would be left alive to make observations or records.

The Daily is not to attempt to make a huge production of several thousand feet, but will make a clean, snappy picture of about the length of a regular program comedy, which will be full of laughs, humorous situations, trick photography and pretty settings.

There will be a story running throughout with a plot and absolutely no advertising.

Preuit, Mrs. J. D. Hunter, and Mrs. J. D. Sharpe. In accordance with the custom of the club this year in the study of hymnology, Mrs. D. D. McGehee gave the life of St. John Bowring, who wrote "Watchman, Tell us of the Night." She also told of his inspiration for writing it. Mrs. C. C. Davison, accompanied by Mrs. Russell Spenke, gave a vocal rendition of the hymn. Miss Elizabeth Wallace added much pleasure to the afternoon with two vocal solos in which Mrs. Lathen Kinney accompanied her.

During the social hour, the hostess served a delicious salad course.

COTACLO CLUB GUESTS OF MRS. E. R. WOLFE

The meetings of the Cotaclo Literary club this year have been unusually delightful and the one with Mrs. E. R. Wolfe on Wednesday afternoon proved no exception.

The first number on the program was by the President, Mrs. J. T. Nelson, and she told interesting, historical and present-day facts about the principal cities of Scotland. Education Week is being observed by all of the clubs and the remainder of this program hour was given to Mrs. Kimball Jones, principal of the Gordon school, who gave a comprehensive talk on "Illiteracy." Mrs. Perkins delighted her hearers with a vocal solo. Miss Imogene Winton's piano solo was a fitting close to the most delightful and profitable program of the club year.

The hostess was then assisted in serving a plate luncheon by Mrs. Bussey and Mrs. Hargrove.

Those enjoying Mrs. Wolfe's hospitality with the members were Mrs. Perkins, Mrs. Shaffer and Mrs. Kimball Jones.

WOMAN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY CENTRAL M. E. CHURCH

The Missionary Society of the Central Methodist church met at the church in the regular weekly meeting, with a large attendance, which increased as the meeting progressed. In the absence of Mrs. F. L. Carswell, president, Mrs. B. E. Preuit presided. The meeting was opened at 3 o'clock with prayer, followed by a song with Mrs. T. B. Woodard at the piano. The devotional was conducted by Mrs. Preuit.

A heavy schedule of business featured the principal work of the afternoon. The nominating committee proposed a re-election of officers which met with the unanimous consent of the organization.

The following were selected: President, Mrs. F. L. Carswell; Vice-President, Mrs. B. E. Preuit; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. H. M. Priest; Recording Secretary, Mrs. T. M. PARTY ON WEDNESDAY

Another milestone was passed in the life of Miss Dorothy Morrow on Wednesday afternoon, at her home on Johnston street when she was honored at a most enjoyable party given by her mother, Mrs. J. E. Morrow. It was given to celebrate her sixth birth anniversary. The home was decorated with yellow and white chrysanthemums setting a color scheme that was carried out in detail.

An animal contest was first indulged in. Mary Preuit won the prize a miniature turkey. Enjoyable readings were given by Gwendolyn Reams and Marie Bernstein. After these, each guest was allowed to fish in the pond, the boys catching horns and the girls, dainty dolls. A pretty lake was found where ducks floated around, furnishing much amusement in a contest and Frank Morrow won this prize.

Tired but happy, the little guests were ushered into the dining room where wishes were made on the birthday cake upon cutting the latter, those receiving the souvenirs hidden in its depths were: Harvey Weaver, Jr., the dime; Louis Mann, the button; Mary Preuit, the ring; and Marjory Phinizy the thimble. Eskimpies and cake, further emphasizing the colors of yellow and white were served.

The names of those present were: Annette and Gwendolyn Reams, Mary Preuit, Argie Carolyn and John Knight Boggs, Nellie Clarke Roan, Marjory Phinizy Elizabeth Ann Humphrey, Idelle Thomas, Ann Joe McRee, Frank Ragan King, Doris and Nancy Laubenthal, Miriam Hunter, Elizabeth Scott, Jane Blackwell, Wladene Sheets, David Speake, Warren, Mildred Goodwin, Frank Morrow Jr., Evelyn Bowens, Clifford Smith, Edward Jervis Davies, Marie and David Bernstein Billy Burch, Harvey Weaver, Jr., and Louis Mann. SYNOPSIS

Connemara Moore is aboard a mysterious yacht. It is past midnight and she is in the company of David Lacy, Pooch, McTish, Doc and Sweetie, none of whom she ever saw before tonight. Connemara and Sweetie have been drowned in the storm but have fathomed makeshift costumes to replace their dampened garments. Connemara had stolen away from her aunt's Connecticut home, disguised as a nun, rather than announce her engagement, as Aunt Celimena had expected her to do.

"So, that's it!" he exclaimed. "McTish must have installed it, and on my own boat; he has his nerve." Then to Doc, "What have you been trying to do? Come, now, hand it out straight and cut out the trimmings."

"Do?" in a tone of puzzled innocence. "Nawthin—just rolled over to keep me wings, from goin' to sleep."

"And purely by accident found this button, I suppose."

"That's it, Cap," returned Doc airily. "I found it there and tried it to see what would happen."

"Of course, you couldn't by any chance have been signaling?"

"Signalin'! Far be it from me," the big man declared. "I did see some little flashes-like, comin' from that there stick" (indicating the mast with a jerk of his head sideways) "but I didn't think they meant nothin'. Who'd I be signalin' to round here, hey?"

"Well, see you don't try to find some one," Lacy said grimly. "And get back to where you were before. Quick, now!"

"Come now hand it out straight!"

Under the prod of an impatient foot Doc was forced back to his old position forward, and Lacy, scowling, made his way aft.

"I didn't see the flashes," he explained to McTish, "but he must have been sending off something. Have you any idea of our bearings?"

"We're off Sea Cliff now," McTish replied, pointing abaft; "yon's Execution Light. An' this is the mouth o' Hempstead Harbor."

"We're not far from Bayville then," Lacy commented. "Now I'd suggest that we pull up anchor and head north, hugging the shore. I don't like the idea of your Swedish friend catching those signals."

The Scotchman's jaw fell in disgust. "Why, mon, that's what we want!" he exclaimed.

"Mac," the other returned, "I've a wholesome admiration for your cannyness and fighting ability, but you told me yourself that 'The Swede' had a half-dozen bruises aboard. We can't tackle them all. I hope Bob will succeed in locating them first."

"Well, lad, I'm sorry if ye are afeared, but if ye'll just pick out one o' them—ye can pick on the safest—I'll tak' care o' the ither sax."

In moments of excitement McTish became very Scotch indeed. He added, as if in mollification of his charge of cowardice, "But I see what's fashin' ye. It's the lassie."

"I suppose she's one of them," assented David gloomily. "But why should she have told me about the fish in that case?"

"Because she's a smart lassie an' able to pu' the wool over your eyes fine if ye gie her half a chance," McTish declared with conviction.

"No," David insisted. "She was surprised. As surprised as I was. She wasn't acting."

"Maybe," the little Scot said dryly. "But I'd not put it past her."

"We're losing time," Lacy reminded him, ignoring this thrust.

Yellow and white candies in baskets of the same colors were presented to the tots on departure.

J. N. Gibson will leave Friday for a visit to points in Florida.

Mrs. Vernon Gibson is spending the week with friends in Huntsville.

"which is what you're playing for, of course. You do what I say and head north or I take back the boat. You've bagged enough now with two birds and Sweetie, to say nothing of the fifty thousand—"

"Which I see that ye keep in yer pants," broke in McTish, grinning, "an' a fine crook ye are yersef. I'll start her up, laddie, on one condection—that ye warn the gir-r-l as far awa' frae that button as ye do the rest. I'm trustin' nane o' them the night."

To these terms Lacy consented with suspicious readiness, and after they had got under way hurried aft to Connemara.

The latter greeted him with a little smile, the gayety of which was slightly forced.

"Look here," she said, "I've been thinking. I believe I've guessed the riddle. Only you'll have to tell me when it's to be released. I'm horribly curious."

"If by 'it' you mean your friend Pooch, I should say in about twenty years—though sometimes they do get off for good behavior."

He was suddenly quite sure she was making a tremendous effort to keep her lips from trembling, but she continued to smile unconcernedly.

"This is a movie, isn't it—in thirty-seven reels? That's why I wanted to know when it was to be released, so that I could see the results. I've never taken part in one before. And here we all are, Pooch and Doc, two perfect duckies of villains, and Sweetie, the soubrette—isn't that what you'd call her, or am I going back to Aunt Celimena's days?"

Then there are cars being stolen and spilled all over the landscape, and messages in cipher, and flashes from mastheads and motorboats popping up out of nowhere. I'm properly thrilled, and, besides, I'm the star, I suppose. And the salaries are true, too—I never believed 'em—but whew! fifty thousand a night!"

"As long as you're casting us, would you mind telling me my role?"

A moment she studied him, slightly to his discomfort. Then, "Let's see your profile—h'm—"

"Is it as bad as that?"

"Yes, every bit—and you're the handsome juvenile"—he bowed—"or else one of those ridiculous sheiks." Here he did not bow, but instead answered, "And I'll play opposite you—on the other side of the bars."

"You mean?"

"I'll give you one guess. It ought to be easy, for you've been awfully lucky if you haven't looked through them before."

"Something actually thrilling then; how much more thrilling, when all the time I've been looking for the camera man!" She paused dramatically. "Oh, I get it; you're not the handsome juvenile—you're the director, and trying to put me in the spirit of my role" (she looked down). "But where are the puttees?"

"You are clever!" he returned, perhaps with not as much aplomb as he would have liked, "but you're too good for this game. Why don't you try something less desperate? With your talent you could go far on the stage."

"Farther than fifty thousand?" Connemara challenged him with a laugh. "Aren't you optimistic?"

"Say," remarked a voice just behind them, its tones a trifle shrill. "I guess I wouldn't harp too much on that fifty thousand if I were you, Sister. Not in present company, anyhow."

With a queer sense of shock, Connemara and Lacy spun about to behold the pert little figure of Sweetie, seated nonchalantly on the prostrate Pooch, her hands in her pockets, swaying to and fro, entirely unmoved by his protesting groins and writhings.

"To think Sister'd tie the double cross on Poochie," she informed the night about them with an air of commiseration that made her unwilling cushion writhe afresh. "An' him lying here all nicely roped up like he was doin' some Lon Chaney stunt. An' you gotta nerve too, Mr. Klassy Klothes" (this to Lacy) "tryin' to steal poor Poochie's skirt away from him, when he can't look out for himself." She paused a moment to illustrate her pity by digging her exaggerated French heels deep in the paunch of the prostrate Pooch, then addressed him, directly this time.

NUXATED IRON For

If you are weak, tired and nervous, build up your blood, and increase your strength with Nuxated Iron. Contains pure organic iron, like that in your own blood. Millions use it successfully. "ADVISE all expectant mothers to use Mother's Friend." Writes Mrs. Wesley Miller, Hudson, Mich. "I have had nine children. With my first three I suffered for 24 hours. Beginning with the fourth I used Mother's Friend and was sick only 15 minutes. Since then I have had five and was only sick about 10 minutes with each."

Mother's Friend is the formula of an eminent physician and has been a positive blessing to thousands of expectant mothers for over three generations. Plain oils only penetrate the skin. But the highly refined oils and other ingredients in Mother's Friend make it penetrate through the skin to the muscles and ligaments; making them soft and pliable, thus aiding the tissues to relax and adjust themselves to the changes during motherhood.

The mothers who praise Mother's Friend the most are those who did not use it with their first baby but through its use with the second, were able to realize its almost unbelievable results.

Mother! Insist on Mother's Friend—the same as used by our mothers and grandmothers—don't wait until using tonight—and meanwhile write Bradford's Regulator Co., Dept. 34, Atlanta, Ga., for free valuable booklet "Motherhood and the Coming Baby" (sent in plain envelope). It tells how Mother's Friend can help you during expectancy and at childbirth. This booklet also tells you many other things you want to know. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all druggists—everywhere.

Many farmers had expressed the opinion that if fair weather had continued the remainder of the week, the entire crop would be out of the fields. RHINELANDER DENIES HE IS 'ABNORMAL'

(Associated Press)

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Nov. 19.—Counsel for Alice Beatrice Jones, negro wife of Leonard Kip Rhinelander, wealthy member of an old Huguenot family, who is seeking annulment of their marriage, today began an attempt to prove the youth was perfectly normal mentally and physically and was not mentally deficient as intimated by their own lawyers.

"You were a perfectly human fellow," said Lee Parsons Davis, of defense counsel.

"Yes," said Rhinelander. Mr. Davis brought out that Leonard was graduated at the head of his class at the Ranch school in Arizona, that he was editor of the school paper and that he had been a frequent contributor of articles and editorials to the paper.

Shifting again to the color question, Davis asked Rhinelander about his first meeting with Alice and her sister, Grace, in 1921, bringing out that Leonard had no suspicions as to their color.

Rhinelander admitted that even now he could not see traces of negro blood in the Jones family.

"When you first saw Alice," asked Davis, "was there any indication in your mind there was negro blood there?"

"No," responded the witness. "Now that you know there is colored blood in the Jones family, do you see traces of it?"

Lady Says Her Back "Hurt Night and Day"—Least Noise Upset Her. Better After Taking Cardui.

Winfield, Texas.—"My back hurt night and day," says Mrs. C. L. Elson, of R. F. D. 1, this place. "I ached and ached until I could hardly go. I felt weak and did not feel like doing anything. My work was a great burden to me. I just hated to do up the dishes, even. I was no-account and extremely nervous."

"My mother had taken Cardui and she thought it would do me good, so she told me to take it. My husband got me a bottle and I began on it. I began to improve at once. It was such a help that I continued it until after the baby's birth."

"I took eight bottles and I can certainly say that it helped me. It is a fine tonic. It built me up and seemed to strengthen me. I grew less nervous and began to sleep better."

"I can certainly recommend Cardui to expectant mothers, for to me it was a wonderful help. In every way I felt better after taking it and I think it is a splendid medicine."

Cardui is purely vegetable, and contains no harmful drugs. For sale everywhere. NC-162

"No," replied Leonard. There is a possibility that Philip Rhinelander, Leonard's father, who tried to break up the friendship of his son for the negro housemaid, will testify.

Asked whether the elder Rhinelander will take the stand, Isaac Mills, counsel for the plaintiff said:

"Wait until we come to that."

Grange Upsets East With Rumors Of A Professional Contract; Local Game

Whether Red Grange, fleet-footed sorrel-topped juggernaut of the Illinois, has a professional contract to play football is throwing quite a few stones in the path of the eastern and western football boards. They are at a loss to vote on Red's eligibility in forthcoming Illinois struggles, yet they can find no basis upon which they might base such a decision.

Just what bearing a professional contract might have at this time on the red topped star from Urbana is a little beyond the realm of southern sporting eyes. Grange may have accepted a contract to play after he has finished his college studies. It is not to be overlooked that the young man, who has travelled more than two miles on the gridiron for a total of 31 touchdowns, must provide his own living just as men who seek other vocations have to do. Red, it seems to the southern writers, has a perfect right to do as he pleases. His body and his brain are his own, he should be granted the privilege of running his own head and feet.

Hanceville high school is expected to put in the last appearance of the year on Friday afternoon when they battle the Decatur high lads at the new athletic field near the new high school building, Decatur. Coach Grimes has not announced his lineup for the final local game but will in all probability use Namie, Bailey, Oldacre and West in the backfield. Morrow, quarterback, will likely be left out of the contest owing to a sprained ankle. Lanier is a certainty at center with Gunn working at one of the ends. The remainder of the lineup is likely to go through a re-vamping process, with the probability that the entire squad will see service before the shades of evening close the contest. The teams are thought to be on an even footing and a good crowd is expected to be out to witness the battle.

Dowager Queen of England Very Ill

(Associated Press)
LONDON, Nov. 19.—Dowager Queen Alexandra, mother of King George, is critically ill from a heart attack it was announced officially here today. The queen, whose 81st birthday falls on December 1, suffered the attack this morning.

It is recalled that Alexandra was reported, late in June, to have developed heart trouble, that a rumor of her death was circulated in London on October 16. The grave nature of today's official statement has led London to expect the worst, in view of her advanced age.

"Just Rub It On"

Croup Relieved Without Dosing

A BOON TO MOTHERS

Mothers everywhere who realize the danger to delicate little stomachs of too much dosing appreciate the value of Vicks in treating croup and children's colds.

With Vicks there is nothing to swallow—you just rub it on. The body heat releases the ingredients—Menthol, Camphor, Eucalyptus, Thyme, Turpentine—in the form of vapors which carry the medication directly to the nose, throat, bronchial tubes and lungs.

At the same time Vicks is absorbed through and stimulates the skin like a poultice or plaster.

Colds go overnight, croup is generally relieved within 15 minutes.

MANN INTERVIEW GIVEN TO SOUTH

"I love the South, it's generous, warm hearted folk and it's delightful, genial hospitality, a hospitality which makes one feel at home, though hundreds of miles from it, the hospitality of a gentle handclasp, a sympathetic smile. It is this that mostly prompted me to accept Mr. Lawrence's offer to brave the fatiguing strain of the one night stands. I wanted to be among these charming people, in their land of continual sunshine and happiness. It is a relief from the cold austerity of Broadway with its clanging street cars and honking motors, rushing multitudes despite the discomfort of making early morning trains, I expect to recuperate among the people of the South and go back to Mrs. Mann, even more rested than when I left," declared Louis Mann, noted actor, on his arrival here today.

"In addition I feel that as I progress along the line of my march through your towns, I shall make more friends than ever before and leave behind me the memory among the theater-goers of one highly entertaining evening of clean, wholesome comedy with a charming love story, a scenic production such as only sent to the great metropolitan cities, and a cast of actors who have sacrificed high salaried engagements to pioneer on this tour, as I am pioneering, in search of a hearty response which has been forthcoming and that will convince Mr. Lawrence's organizations that you people deserve more plays and players of like ilk.

Putting Electricity to Work for Alabama

This advertisement reproduced by kind permission of the Alabama Power Company from an advertisement in Birmingham News of November 9, 1925.

ALABAMA POWER COMPANY
Theo. W. Norris
President

WISE old Ben Franklin said: "Money makes money and the money money makes, makes more money."

That's equally true of a state's resources. Coal, iron ore, limestone and a rich farming territory are worth nothing as an undeveloped storehouse of energy. But, put to work, they create wealth. Low cost hydro-electric and steam power has been a most effective contribution to the industrial progress of Alabama. Hydro-power has lowered production costs in many industries and brought new industries to the state. It has increased Alabama's wealth.

Alabama Power Company deserves the congratulations of all thinking citizens for the role it has played in Alabama's progress.

The interest of Jemison & Company in that progress is twofold. First, the welfare of Jemison & Company is inseparably identified with that of Alabama. Second, Jemison & Company has a direct pecuniary interest because it lends large sums on mortgages in Alabama towns of more than 10,000 population and on improved Alabama farms.
